The commissioners were instructed to confine their inquiry to watersheds lying wholly within the State of New York, in order to avoid litigation. The report of the commission contemplates an ultimate enlargement of the city supply, to the etxent of an additional 500,000,000 gallons per day. It is estimated that this supply, with all necessary aqueducts, reservoirs, filtering basins and pumps, can be provided for $100,000,000.

FRIARS ARE DISSATISFIED.

Say Money They Will Receive from Philippine Lands Will be Scarcely Enough to Pay Debt.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ROME, Dec. 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Considerable excitement prevailed in the Mother Houses of the vailed in the Mother Houses of the Dominicans, Augustinians, Franciscans and the Recollects over the announcement of the settlement of the Friariands question in the Philippines. The friars were glad the discussions had been concluded, but think the orders got little for the lands, especially since the American occupation and the restablishment of order in the archipelago has increased values. The friars say the money they will receive is scarcely enough to pay what they borrowed when they were deprived of everything by the revolution. Besides, they point out, only part of the money will go to the friars, as the lands were really transferred to a company formed in Madrid. The Dominicans succeeded in so thoroughly concealing their ownership of the lands that the Vatican itself threatened to punish them severely for having tried to deceive even the ecclesiastical authorities.

Livery Drivers Compel Use of Embalmers Wagons as Hearses and Mourners Run Risk of Walking to CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Sixteen hundred livery drivers, backed by every teamsters' union in Chicago, struct' today for better wages and working conditions. Several meetings were held between committees representing the livery owners and the drivers' union, but the employers refused to make any concessions, claiming that business did not warrant paying higher wages in view of the inroads made by automobiles. Nearly four hundred stables are completely tied up. Drivers of hearses went out with the carriage drivers, and as a result funeral processions will be curtailed. The first trouble occurred when an attempt was made to conduct a funeral at West sixteenth and Aliport streets. An undertaker secured enough conveyances to take the body and mourners to the church, but while the services were in progress pickets compelled the drivers of the hearse and carriages to desert, under threats of violence. Some of the seventy-five runerals scheduled for today were postponed in the hope that the strike would be settled. Most of them, however, took place, the bodies being carried to the cemeteries in undertakers embalming wagons. Only seven hundred cabe and carriages—those used by licensed cabmen, who are piedged list to handle any of the funeral business for liverymen—were operated to date. LONDON, Dec. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Official England tonight, almost to a unit, is convinced that there is but one way to avert war between Japan and Russia. That is for the Czar to accept the demands of the Mikado, made on the advice of his ministry.

There has been considerable communication during the last twelve hours between the British Foreign Office and its Japanese legation in Longe fice and in Japanese legation in Lon-don, and the presumption, almost an acknowledged fact in official circles, is that the British government has asked just what the Japanese Minister's ad-vices are from his home government as to Japan's position in the present state of negotiations between that nation and Russia. From reports current tonight it is assumed that the Japanese Minister has been advised that the relations between h s government and Russia have practically reached the breaking point. He walked up the thirteen steps unassisted. As the noose was being placed over his head he exclaimed: "God have mercy upon my soul, a miserable ginner!" He entered the death chamber at 10:22 o'clock. He was attendedby Rev. Fatter Egan of San Rafael and Rev. Drahms, the prison chaplain. Hangman Frank Arbogast adjusted the noose, while Turnkey Swan placed the black cap in position. The trap was sprung at 10:32, Ross fell five feet and six inches. Before his fall through space he deliberately clasped his hands. After the drop his body moved four times in convulsions. In ten m'nutes he was pronounced dead.

Ross's crime was committed on the steamer Santa Rosa at Port siarford. Ross committed a burglary in San Diego and Ward was bringing him to San Quentin to serve four years. While on the boat Ross took a water bottle and struck ward over the head, then escaped through a window. Owing to a 16-pound Oregon boot he was unable to swim and clung to a pile. Sheriff Ivan of San Luis Obispo county captured him. Ward died about ten days afterward.

Ross was tried, convicted and sentenced to hang. He arrived at San Quentin in March, 129, The case was found guilty again. The case was found guilty again. The case was taken to the State Supreme Court several times and to the United States's highest tribunal once. Ross had wealthy relatives in the East, who expended over 310,000 trying to save him. TEXT OF UNIT RULE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A M.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The agreement of the Democratic caucus that bereafter the Democratic Senators shall vote as a unit on party questions has aroused so much interest that it has been thought worth while to give out the text of the resolution which was adopted by the caucus. It is as follows:

Senator, and was not so exciting as yesterday.

Mr. Daniel of Virginia was the speaker, and he advocated the acceptance of Mr. Hoar's resolution calling on the President for more information relative to the November revolution in Panama. Mr. Pulton made a speech in support of the bill to give aid to the proposed Lewis and Clarke exposition at Portland, Or., in 1995.

The House today, by resolution authorized the Committee on Expenditures in the Postoffice Department, to request the Postmaster-General to furnish to that committee the papers in connection with the recent post-office investigation, but not until after a lively debate. The resolution met opposition on the Republican side. Mr. Overstreet (Rep.) of Indiana, chairman of the Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads, contended that the information sought had been received from the Postoffice Department and mailed to members.

The contention was between the committee of the House, the Postoffice Committee, of which Mr. Overstreet is chairman, and the chairman of the Committee on Expenditures of the Postoffice Department, of which Mr. Wanger is chairman. The latter tried to secure recognition of his measure when the matter first came before the Benate. Mr. Wanger was supported by members of his committee and others.

Without delay, an Ambassador was appointed to this country, and if that new republic had any independence, it was soon snuffed out by the acts of that Ambassador.
When Mr. Daniel closed, Mr. Fulton of Oregon took the floor to advocate the passage of the bill providing, an appropriation for the proposed Lewis and Clark exposition.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—In the executive session of the Senate, Mr. Nelson (Rep.) of Minnesota made a long speech, in which he criticized the convention as making insufficient provision for the trade of the United States. He said it indicated that the hand of Russia had been shown against this country, making it impossible for the United States to receive concessions needed in the way of open ports. He said that the ports of Mukken and Antung, which are opened under the treaty, are, in fact, inland ports, accessible only to vessels of light draught.

He blamed Russia for this condition of affairs, and warned the Senate that we may yet have trouble with that country over the Manchurfan question, which, he said, had been responsible for the instillity of the United States plenipotentiaries to obtain the opening of the other important ports under more favorable conditions.

The attitude taken by Mr. Nelson was upheld, in speeches by a number of other Senators, although it was argued at the same time that this treaty is an entering wedge to our trade, and that it was the best that China was able to do under Russian duress.

Mr. Lodge urged the fimportance of having the treaty ratified, and said that the State Department considered mmediate action as essential. He deciated that the ratification probably would have a bearing on the settlement of the Far Eastern question.

Senators Morgan, Cullom, Spooner and a number of others agreed with Mr. Lodge. It was stated by some of the speakers that if Russia had objection to the treaty, it had not ben apparent, and on the contrary, it was said that she had openly expressed her approval of it. There was no division on the motion to ratify.

THAT "MIDNIGHT TARIFF." AFFECTING EXPORT RATES. IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! Dispatch.] If the Eastern lines ou of Chicago form a pool on east-bound steamship business as the solution of the rate trouble over export traffic, it is not likely-that the roads will seek to divide that traffic equally among to divide that traffic equally among themselves. At least, that is the belief in well-informed trunk-line circles. It was pointed out today that while the roads might come together and adopt a common policy in the handling of export traffic, similar to the import pool, any plan for apportlening that business among them would probably not be countenanced by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Dispatch.] According to the best authorities the policies of two great Harriman systems for the calendar year 1904 are now fairly well defiged. The mosa striking characteristic of the two policies is their conservatism in the matter of, new undertakings.

The Southern Pacific has spent during the past three years well over $50, common on improvements properly chargeable to the capital account. The Union Pacific, all lines, has spent about $40,000,000, part of which has been funded under the convertible and Oregon Short Line mortgages. It appears that the apparent check in the progressive policy of these two roads

ing lower rates via the Gulf than the east-bound lines have. Much of the trouble has been brought about by the policy of some lines in issuing 'mid-night tariffs,' or, in other words, emercommission. The rate then become public, of course, but the purpose for which it was made, namely, to get ahead of competing roads and secur-business, has been accomplished, and other shippers know nothing of the

VOTING MACHINES.

V The Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, after due considera-tion of the question of buying voting machines, are disposed to favor the Angeles county, after due consideration of the question of buying voting machines, are disposed to favor the use of such machines, and have submitted to the City Council a suggestion that the city shall bear one-half the cost of installing a limited number of machines in this city, and that the county shall bear the other half the county shall bear the other half of the expense. The cost will be of the situation lies in the possibility that there may be three or four Democratic Senators who will special occasions call for special mention, and the story from the wides. of the expense. The cost will be four Democratic Senators who will have the courage and the manhood, somewhat heavy initial expense, is the fact that the use of voting matter of individual conscience, to break away from the caucus rule chines will prove a measure of economy in the end, by materially reducing the cost of elections. Under the present system a number of election, although the obstructionists might delay final action for a constitution of the cauchy and the cost of the cost of the present system and the cost of the present system a number of elec-tion officials are required at each polling place, the compiling of the returns is slow and tedious, and the work of the election officers often tion, entailing extra expense. By the use of voting machines, both time and money are saved. The votes are all counted as soon as the polls close, all counted as soon as the polis close, and the returns can be compiled immediately thereafter. This, in itself, is a strong and unanswerable argument in favor of the machines. The long delay and frequent mistakes in counting the votes under the present ystem is vexations and tireso here were no other argument in favor of voting by machinery, this one would create a strong public opinion in favor of adopting the vot-

Reports show that wherever voting achines have been installed they have given satisfaction. In Massa-chusetts and New York States they have been given very thorough tests and have proved to be thoroughly satisfactory. The further and important argument is made in their betles for fraudulent voting to a minimum; that bribery is made practically impossible, and that fraudulent returns are made wholly so, as the machines naure absolute accuracy in the count. the ballot under the present system, are also said to be avoided by the machiné system.

All of these things are to be con-sidered in deciding the question as to whether voting machines are to be adopted in Los Angeles. The ques-tion is one of the utmost importance, and no final decision should be ar-rived at without intelligent and ma-

THE ORLY OBSTACLE.

There is one obstacle, and only one, that stands between the government of the United States and the be ginning of the construction of the Panama Canal. That obstacle is the opposition of a few Democratic Senators, including Senator Hoar (who is placed in that category because of the fact that he is generally found training in the Democratic ranks on questions of great public moment.) The Democratic Senators who have seen fit, for reasons that are obviously partisan, to place themselves across the path of progress, number some twenty-odd individuals, comprising a majority of the Democratic minority of the Senate, or scarcely more than one-fifth the total membership of that body. The cause action of of that body. The caucus action of the Senate minority, binding all Democratic Senators to act as a unit on matters "which do not interfere with individual conscience," enables this small majority of the minority to hold up any measure they may see fit to strangle; and the absurd and antiquated rules of the Senate, which permit any Senator to talk inter-minably on any subject that may be up for discussion, may be used to prevent action on the pending treaty for the construction of the isthmian

Thus a few men seemingly have it within their power to prevent the building of the Panama Canal; and they are threatening to use that power

Senator Gorman, in his ill-tempered and ill-advised harangue before the Senate on Thursday, declared among other things that his party "could take the responsibility and say to the administration, without regard to party, 'Congress has directed you to administration, without regard to party, 'Congress has directed you to do one of two things; to construct the canal and do it without delay. When you cannot get it at Panama, the construct it odo.

If Mr. Gorman and his party wish to take the responsibility for tude they can probably do so; but they will find it the heaviest responsi-bility that their party has taken upon iself for more than a generation. is a responsibility which they will find exceedingly grievous before they have borne it very long. It is a re-ponsibility which the Democratic party of the nation will not willingly assume. That party has borne many tile acres have an important bearing: irrigation plays its part, and our un-equaled climate must be given proper credit. But, all these things com-bined, and a thousand other natural and acquired advantages with them, could never have made Los Angeles the city that it is and that it is going to be were it not that it has main-tained a reputation for industrial repose that stood as a guarantee to vested rights and interests. Capital fleeing from San Francisco, Chicago, New York and many another strike-cursed and union-ridden city turns hopefully to Los Angeles, greatly to our good and betterment. And, as a result of this, our city is And, as a result of this, our city is growing with giant strides, and all Southern California is growing with us. The people of San Francisco, who have long treated as a joke our boast that Los Angeles would yet become the metropolis of the Pacific Coast, become less and less inclined to laugh as time goes by. They have begun to awaken to the fact that capital seeking an outlet on these shores is steadily giving this city a prefegence because it is safer here, snores is steady giving this city a prefegence because it is safer here, because it is free from unwarranted dictations here and because it can here conduct the business which it buys and pays for unhampered by irresponsible outside meddlers and prosperity wreckers,

IN THE MATTER OF NEWS.

It goes without saying that it is the business of a newspaper to print "the news." What constitutes "news" is capable of as many defini-tions as the number of those who may endeavor to define it. Certain it is, however, that the demands of human intelligence in this most progressive of ages, when all fields of science are being reviewed in the earch not alone for the things that are new but for discoveries which shall shed new light upon the old, are first for accuracy of exposition and then for breadth of research. The telescope is no more useful than the microscope, and the achievements of both must fail to be of any lasting value unless reduced to statements of fact by the trained mind.

In this twentieth-century march o progress the Press, of its own power and purpose, takes a place in the vanguard. Few nowadays are the discoveries of whatsoever nature that are not first heralded to the eager world through the mediumship white paper, printer's ink and the cylinder that daily revolves as surely and timely as the earth upon its axis It follows, then, that the more nearly perfect the agencies by which these discoveries, that is to say, "the news" —are transmitted to the mediums of publication the more valuable the record and the more satisfactory it is to the human intelligence.

Hence another all-important factor organization. No one telescope, no heavy burdens, in the form of un-popular issues. This one would be of the world's progress could satisfy the last straw."

one microscope trained on the fields of the world's progress could satisfy for one day the insatiable hunger for news of the world's affairs that is experienced by the people of a country like the United States. It is in this country, therefore, that the mo have the courage and the manhood, as a matter of individual conscience, to break away from the caucus rule of their party and vote for the treaty. This would insure its eventual ratification, although the obstructionists might delay final action for a considerable time.

The talk about turning to Nicaragua now is idle and ridiculous. All the leading governments of the civilized world have recognized the independence of the new republic of Panama. That republic has fully in the search for "news." Let the good in the search for "news." work go on.

Be FROMFT AND BE FAIR.

The best expert engineering opinion agrees that the Panama route is the better route for the waterway. Mesers. Gorman, Hoar and Tillman have not yet recognized the independence of the new republic, it is true; but as their recognition is the only obstacle to the construction of the canal, it is barely possible that this obstacle can be overcome.

WHY CAPITAL PAVORS LOS ANGELES.

Why is Los Angeles more highly favored by capital seeking investment than any other city on the American continent? The question is an easy one to answer. It is because of the fact that the conditions of industrial repose which have here so long obtained and which, happily, are as yet undisturbed, is the greatest lodestone in the world for the dollar that wants to go to work. Blue skies are something, to be sure; fire, fertile acres have an important bearing; irrigation plays its part, and our unit to succeed the sore spot on Mainstreet. We have been in need of the canal, it is barely possible that they are not alone to blame. The hame should be abated without delay and at the same time without injustice to any persons or interests concerned.

Why is Los Angeles more highly favored by capital seeking investiment than any other city on the canal canad the objectionable condition exclusing in this regard. The companies do not alone use the tracks; they are used by the general public, also, who help to kick up a dust frespective of that raised by the passing cars. The dust is a nuisance to the railway companies and also an injury to their business. What if they should "come back" upon the city government to make good for its share in raising that dust? It is at least a "quien sabe" case.

'quien sabe' case. It then becomes a serious question

It is manifest that the city is, in the first instance, responsible for the clean and orderly condition of the public streets, which are used by the people and by street-car companies alike—by citizens on foot and likewise in car-perity wreckers.

Is not such a condition of affairs a thing for us to take pride in? Is it not of the most vital importance to us that these conditions be maintained and continued? Whoever thinks so let him do his share in the duty imposed upon us. Stand fast, be vigilant, stamp out the firebrands and squelch the meddlers.

The grand jury's dragnet in Nebraska is catching some mighty big in these days. With one United States Senator, an ex-adjutant-general and a State Senator enmeshed, Grand Rapids and St. Louis begin to look, like mighty small potatoes and few in a hill.

P. Heath, according to a Times dispatch from Chicago, was in that city on Thursday last "in consultation" with a national committeeman; which would appear to indicate that P. Heath still has his nerve with him.

a little sheet of 128 seven-column pages, with a handsome cover, in celebration of its "silver anniver-sary," the Journal having been founded twenty-five years ago, when Minneapolis was a small and comparatively insignificant place. To judge from the contents of this issue, the business men of Minnéapolis are liberal patrons of the press, which doubtless accounts to some extent for the rapid growth of the city.

The High School girls of Pueblo, Colo., have instituted a crusade against corsets. The crusade has spread to the minor schools of that city and the members of the Anti-Corset Club which has been formed will "now try to get the older women to aid them in the crusade." This be glorious news indeed. Hooray for Pueblo! Long live the town where the encircling arm can reel something soft and warm against it instead of an unyielding substance that resembles, from the feel, a section of oil-well casing. May the Pueblo movement spread even as far as the shores of the Pacific, nigh to which glorious Los Angeles stands and continues to grow in all her native lovellness of girl and things. inor schools of that city and the

The coyness of the Weather Bureau on the rain question is both remarkable and decidedly uncomfortable. Either we must have rain or the street-car concerns and the city the street-car concerns and the city authorities must get together. The present situation is becoming unbear-able and decidedly unhealthful.

Tobacco Worries Women.

WHITTIER, Dec. 17—[To the Editor of the Los Angeles Times:] Once upon a time my husband was a court manthat is, he sat upon the jury. In Los Angeles. One Saturday night he was shut up with the jury a good part of the night, that a verdict might be secured. He dislikes tobacco as much as does his wife, but, in its continued atmosphere, he forgot that he was thoroughly fumigated. Arriving at his home town just in time for church he immediately wended his way thither. I was soon by his side, glad to greet him. But scarce had the opening hymn been sung when the strong scent of tobacco from his clothes impelled me to move apart from him one chair. He, thinking I was dodging some lady's hat, also moved over one seat. I soon made another move, and he, not yet understanding, made a second move. Then, in desperation, I whispered "tobacco," and moved another seat, and was this time left alone. Like the plaques of lice and frogs in Egypt so tobacco worries the women. We find its scent everywhere, in our groceries, in our dry-goods and even in own clothes when we have been to an oil meeting or upon the street. We could bear the discomforts to ourselves, but alas: when we find tobacco in our boys' pockets, that is too much, for we know that as scale to the orange trees, so tobacco is to mankind, and the younger the tree or man the more the harm.

The efforts of the labor party representatives undoubtedly will be bent toward securing recognitions of unions, a limitation of the hours of labor, compulsory arbitration and discrimination against foreign vessels in the coast trade. Speaking generally the labor party is strongly protectionist. Its attitude in regard to preferential trade will be to heighten the wall against the foreigner without lowering it for Great Britain.

Judge Noyes Takes Credit for the Appointment of North.

Times Man Haled Before Court for Refusing to Answer.

the world in Now, if I prove my sthis matter, ommended Attorney W. M. Peck Arbitrarily Fined for Contempt.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A climax was reached in the by-piay going on in connection with the grand jury investigation, when The Times man was haled before Judge Noyes for contempt of court for refusing to violate confidences and disclose the sources of his information. Wednesday, when Mr. Donaldson declined to break confidence with those who had "put him next" to the alleged graft situation, there was a definite understanding that the point at issues should be referred to Judge Noyes for a decision. Mr. Donaldson refusing to take an off-hand opinion from the Judge, was excused until today, to enable the Judge to look up authorities At the appointed hour Donaldson was continued until the afternoon session.

That this was a mere subterfuge on the part of Dist.-Atty. Evans to say placed under arrest, the complaint charging contempt of court, accompanied by an order to appear before Judge Noyes at 1:30 p.m. At that hour Donaldson, accompanied by his attorney, Wilfred M. Peck, put in an appearance, Mr. Peck having previously had an understanding that a continuance would be arranged until Monday afternoon, in order to give opportunity to file an answer or enter a demurrer. But this continuance was defiele by Judge Noyes.

One nequiliar continuance was defieled by Judge Noyes.

rer. But this continuance was denied by Judge Noyes.

One peculiar circumstance, which indicated that someone was ashamed of the job put up, was the tender on the part of Dist.-Atty. Evans to clear the courtroom of spectators. Mr. Peck objected, declaring that he or his client had nothing to conceal or to be ashamed of.

All of Mr. Peck's preliminary pleas for a fair consideration were brushed aside, and the order to proceed given. When Mr. Brown, foreman of the grand jury, was offered as a witness. Mr. Peck objected to any testimony being given on the grounds that the attorney for the defendant had been given no time to prepare for the trial, and no opportunity to file a demurrer or answer, and that there was some merit in the position taken by the defense, and was inclined to give one hour in which to file an answer. Mr. Peck vigorously contended that there was some merit in the position taken by the defense, and was inclined to give one hour in which to file an answer. Mr. Peck vigorously contended that there was some was too short to enable him to properly prepare.

COURT FINES MR. PECK.

COURT FINES MR. PECK.

While the judge was reading the decision cited, there occurred some conversation between the District Attorney and Mr. Peck, in which the latter remarked to the former that he saw no reason why the case should be railroaded through. The judge took umbrage at this comment and went out of his way to construe the remonstrance of Mr. Peck as applying to the court, and declared it to be contemptuous. Mr. Peck immediately replied that his remark was addressed solely to the District Attorney, and had no reference to the judge whatever. The judge, however, made up an order of contempt in which he made it appear that the remark of the attorney was addressed to the court, when the contrary was the truth. District a fine of 110 for contempt was imposed upon the attorney.

The matter of Mr. Peck's alleged contempt of the court was alleged contempt. COURT FINES MR. PECK.

WHAT THE KASTERS SAY.

They seemed to be only spreading the fame of Solomon—did those sailors and traders and travelers who told to people everywhere about the wizard of Palestine. But they never spoke of him without mentioning his God; until it came about that one could hardly think of Solomon at all without thinking of Jehovah. If they spoke of his wealth, they could not keep from telling where it came from. If they spoke of his wealth, they at once spoke of God's favor. They could not speak of his deeds without telling of the temple on had built to the Lord God of larcael. More interest in Him and inou ry about Him was provoked by Solomon's fame than if he had sent out a wore of missionaries to tell the mignity works and worthy character of Cod. Christ affixes His name to His followers; to that they give lifm reputation will jectale whether they will a not. They sive Him a reputation somewitt like their own. As Solomon's fame and God's fame, Solomon's splendor and God's fame, Solomon's splendor and God's splendor, were united and blended in the mind of the Queen of Sheba, so Christ's is almost identical with that of His disciples.—[Selected.

Great ones belong to the whole world. A certain citizen of Cadis is said to have been so impressed with the name and the fame of Livy, the Roman historian, that he came from what was then one of the remotest corners of the earth simply to see him, and then went back. The famous Dr. Lorenz, so skilled in "bloodless survey," belongs not to Austria, but to the world. Once people were most attracted to the great ones of earth by riches or by worldy power. Today he is to be most world-renowned who reves the world's needs most manfully—[Polierd.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

There are two kinds of peace, so-

The flowers of peace blossem in the path of the war of the Son of God. This is a Christmas thought—an echo of the angel song that greated the first Christmas morn. Ever since that hour noble hearts in all ages have been stirred by the vision of a world peace, when all strife between man and man should cease, and the spirit of human brotherhood should be regnant. And this long-desired peace is coming; the signs of its nearness were never so many as they are today. The gospal's triumphs usake it inevitable. Where the spirit of Jesus enters there is a sunlight of peace, Age by age to increase, Till Anger and ante are dead And Sorrow and Death shall cease; Souls that are gentle and stil 1 Hear the first music of this Par-off infinite Bliss:

—[Edwin Arnold.

There is a significant change made

The world will be without war when it comes to be without hate, greed, envy, falsenood and sefishness of every sort. By driving these passions from individual breasts, Christianity is driving war from the world.

The woes of war are varied, but the chiefest of them is the violence done to the lowering of manhood's standards. No people can devote themselves to taking the lives of another people—committing murder by wholesale—without an impairment of that finer spiritual sense which is the crowning trait of humanity.

"Bs fer war, I call it murder—
There you hev it plain and flat;
I don't want to go no furder Than my Testyment fer that."
—Lowell, in the Bigelow Papers.

The most definite step toward the ultimate expulsion of war from civilized society has been taken within the knowledge of every person who reads these lines, by the establishment of The Hague Tribunal. The palace of peace that is to be there erected will be a standing rebuke to every war that may yet be waged. For peace is the goal of progress, and war is an obstacle in the way.

The exact form which the final dispearance of war will take has been

Betting Should be Heavy on Corbett

Eastern Bookmakers are Expected to Back the Former.

Unknown Club Wants O'Brien as Ryan-Ingleside Features.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The "Toung Corbett". Eddie Hanion championship bout, which is set for December 28, is already creating a lot of discussion. It will undoubtedly be a heavy betting affair, as Eastern bookmakers are expected to back Corbett to a man, while Hanion has an army of friends to make good his end of the wagering.

Harry Corbett, who is an excellent judge of prices, when asked what the opening betting would be, said. "If the admirers of Toung Corbett' believe him to be in a condition for a hard fight, I think the Denver man will open an 8-to-16 choice. The price will probably fluctuate between that and even money, according to the condition of the two men as they appear in training."

AGAIN TO CHALLENGE.

POUR-LEAFED ONE."

Presented Silver Service by Americans, Who Hear that He Has Been Corresponding With the New York Yacht Club for Another Try.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
LONDON, Dec. 18.—Sir Thomas Lipton announced his readiness to again challenge for the America's cup when the silver service, subscribed for by the people of the United States, was presented him at a dinner held at the Hyde Park Hotel tonight. The dinner was attended by several members of the House of Commons, the members of the London Presentation Committee, including John R. Carter, Second Secretary of the United States Embassy; Capt. Charles H. Stockton, United States Navai Attaché, Maj. John R. Beacom, United States Military Attaché, and by nearly a hundred American residents of London, as well as several who are now visiting here. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

well as several who are now visiting here.

Consul-General Evans presided, and in presenting the service, said it was unprecedented for such an honor to be paid a foreigner by the people of the United States, and that Sir Thomas Lipton had won the golden opinions of those from whom he tried to wrest the America's cup. Sir Thomas, in replying, said he was proud to be the recipient of such a splendid gift, anding: "It will be cherished by me as my most valued trophy."

Referring in a humorous vein to the value of the gift in "raising the wind." Sir Thomas said that he never really had any difficulty in so doing except at Sandy Hook. He had hoped, he said, to add an interest to the fiscal controversy by increasing the British gilver imports with that interesting import, the America's cup. Having failed to do so, he found in this silver service a splendid substitute.

Speaking wifh feeling, Sir Thomas said that if any action of his had tended to the development of a better feeling between Great Britain and the United States it would be a source of sincere happiness to him to the end of his days, though what he had done was merely a slight return for the of sincere happiness to him to the end of his days, though what he had done was merely a slight return for the generosity and courtesy showered upon him by the American people.

Continuing, Sir Thomas said: "The love which always exists between a true mother and a true daughter, however wealthy and aristocratic that daughter may become, including duchesses and other Americans, should keep the two countries together. America's progress toward the southern pole was only hindered by the newly-founded republic of Panama and we must work together for the peace of the world. 'Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall inherit the earth!' "Sir Thomas said that he had sent a letter to the New York / Yacht Club, tealing with another possible challenge for the club. He added that he was quite willing to have a reasonable chance of success, especially as the next Shamrock will be a lucky four-leafed one."

MORLEY MAKES ONE.

On his new tables in the Coliseum bowling and billiard rooms on Main street. Manager Morely last night made street. Manager Morely last night made a billiard record, that so far as known, has never been equalled on the Coast. He made eleven cushions, and after a number of trials succeeded in scoring ten several times. The feat is a remarkable one from a billirdist's point of view, and both Morley and Fred Simpson, the local B.B.C. man, unite in saying it is so far as known, a Coast record. Mr. Simpson was if witness of the performance, and felt highly grat-record. Mr. Simpson was a witness of the performance, and felt highly gratified at it, as his firm furnished the tables in Morley's new place. The tables are bran new, and are fitted with extra lively cushions of the most modern design.

The formal opening of the rehabilitated Coliseum Bowling Alleys and Billiard Room will take place tonight. The place has been fitted up in the most elaborate style at great expense, and a large crowd of billiard and pool enthusiasts is expected.

A meeting of some of the lacrosse enthusiasts was held last night in a Spring-street office, but aside from discussing the possibilities of starting the sport here, nothing was done toward organization. There will be a practice game tomorrow as usual, on some vacant let within the city and it is expected that organization will be effected after Christmas.

Driving Club Baces.

Entries for the Christmas matinee races of the Los Angeles Driving Club closed yesterday, and while the list is not as large as on previous dates, the assistant secretary is very well satisfied with the number. The club is unfortunate in having genuine opposition this year in the Ascot Park races, and it is expected that the attendance will suffer on that account.

The usual Saturday sweepstakes will be played th's afternoon at the Los Angeles Country Club course, but a great crowd of players is not looked for, owing to the dryness of the ground, which will keep some players from entering.

The attention of the Memphis offi-cials was attracted by thousands of letters received there addressed to purties in Southern and Western States. An investigation showed that they were mailed by a man who gave his mame as Robert H. Banks, having a room at No. 300 Front street. He was sending broadcast circular letters, which were accompanied by alleged copies of a fraud dicree rendered by the "Court of Claims," designating him as receiver for the "Mississippi. Valley Planter Publishing Company," whose affairs, the circulars stated, were thrown into court through a bill filed by the "Chicago Paper Company."

culars stated, were thrown into court through a bill filed by the "Chicago Peiper Company."

The alleged publishing company had, it was said, offered premiums to its subscribers—everything from a pair of mules, wagou and harness, down to a double-barreied shotgun. The "court" the circulars said, had decided against the "Chicago Paper Company," and ordered that the premiums be awarded to the lucky subscribers. It was also stated that the books of the alleged defunct company failed to give all the names of the lucky subscribers, and the "receiver" was ordered to compile a new list. All that was necessary for "subscribers" to do to receive the'r premiums was to send a remittance covering the express charges. Despite the fact that the "court" de-ree was bowns; that the "Planter Publishing Company" was a myth; and that none of the victims who received the fraudulent letters were ever subscribers, they bit at the scheme by thomands.

The machine has no balloon attachment, but gets its force from propellors worked by a small engine.

Preparatory to its flight, the machine was placed upon a platform near Kittyhawk. This platform was built on a high sandhill and when all was in readifiess the fastenings of the machine were released and it started down an incline. The navigator, wilbur Wright, then started a small gasoline engine, which worked the propellors. When the end of the incline was reached the machine gradually arose until it attained an altitude of sixty feet. In the face called for the police. There might have been more, but he was not sure. TELLS A FISHY STORY.

Then a witness was presented who told a surprising story, and one which the jury declared by its verdiet it did not believe. He was J. S. Atkinson, who mays he occupied a room adjoining that in which the shoeting began. He had been regularly summened as a witness, but about the time he was wanted he could not be found. When finally lecated he told a story which all three of the efficers and other witnesses who were in the hotel at the time prenounced in unqualified terms to be untrue. His version of the shoeting was that after the first fusiliade of shots in the bedroom and the retreat of the officers he had gone into the room to see what was the matter. He says he may young Choisser bending over the body of his father, who was in a closet. The young man appealed to Atkinson to help him, and together they laid the dying man upon the bed. Then, Atkinson says, he tore the old man's vest from his body and extinguished the shet. He was made to repeat this statement several times, and swere positively that he had removed Choisser's vest. Then he said the son started out to get a physician, and as he turned the angle in the hallway he was killed. There were several weak roints in this story and they were pointed out to the Jury. First, it was established beyond any doubt whatever that Choisser's vest was not removed until the body reached Breese Bree. Undertaking establishment. Then it was proven by several what resembles that the time that clapsed between the first shooting and the appearance of young Choiser in the hallway with his revolver in his hand was so short that it would have been impossible for Atkinson to have entered the room, much less to have had time to lift a man to a bed and tear off his clothing. After the inquest some of the jurys expressed themselves in most foreible terms with reference to wint they said they considered false testimony.

JURORS INSPECT SCENE.

JUROES INSPECT SCENE.

That there might be no, misunderstanding as to what had happened it was suggested that the jurors visit the scene of the tragedy and see for themselves just where the officers had stood, where the bodies fell, and note the bullet holes in the walls of the hallway.

There was one witness whose testimony was heard by the Coroner's tury after the adjournment at Breace Brea, and unon whose evidence in great measure the werdiet was based. When the jury went to the scene of the shooting there were one or two members who had not made up their minds as to what would be their verdict. There were several important points which they desired to have cleared un. It was decided to visit the hotel and with some of the witnesses go over the story of the shooting again. The jury had been supolied with a disaram of the place, and, following this, the members seked Detective Murphy to show them just how the killing had occurred.

KILLING ILLUSTRATED.

Beginning at the room in which the disaram days over the story of the story of the secretary of the story of the shooting again.

Beginning at the room in which the officers first secreted themselves, Murphy took the jury through the various steps of the tragedy, showed them the builet hole in the door, pointed out where young Choisser had stood when he fired the opening shot, and then in detail explained all that followed. The jury was particularly interested in the examination made of the closel in Choisser's room, for Atkinson had testified that the old man was found lying in that closest, and that there would be blood stains on the floor. There were no such stains, and this further clinches the evidence of the officers when they denied that it would have been possible for Atkinson to have entered the room during the battle.

ONLY ONE THING TO DO.

"Gentlemen, there was only one thing to do then. He raised his gun to fire again and I shot him. As I fired. Cowen fired two or three shots in quick succession and the man threw up his hands and fell to the floor. I sprang to him and secured his gun and celled for Cowen to search him to see if he had another gun. Then I ran back to the corner of the hallway and kept watch over that door, for I expected every minute that the old mas would come out armed. Had he come out I would have shot him, for I knew we were up against a desperate poir. We did not know that he was dead and it was not until later when, with Detectives Hawley and Kelly, I entered the from that we found him dead. I told Cowen to get the patrol wagon for young Choisser was not then dead, and I also told him to get assistance, for we did not know what the old man would be doing."

TWO WHO SAW ALL. ONLY ONE THING TO DO.

TWO WHO SAW ALL While Murphy was reciting his story or the killing, a guest at the hotel who refused to give his name approached the jury and said; "Gentlemen, I and my wife witnessed the whole affair, but we did not desire to appear as witnesses. What Murphy tells you is the truth. I never saw him before last night and do not know him, but in the interests of justice I want to assert that his statements are true and the whole truth.

interests of justice I want to assert that his statements are true and the whole truth. You can ask my wife if you are not satisfied that I am teiling you the truth."

But the jurors were satisfied. It so happened that some of them are business men whose places Murphy had watched for years before he became a member of the polic force. They had trusted him with thousands of dellars worth of property and knew him well, and his statements, explained as they were by pointing out where the bullets had struck, convinced the jury that the officers had acted only as good officers should act, and the jury rendered its verdict accordingly.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury settles the matter so far as further proceedings in the courts are concerned. Civil suits may grow out of the case, but the tragedy will not be reviewed before any criminal tribunal.

Injuries Caused Death.

Conductor O'Keefe of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, who was run over by a gravel train near Monrovia about a week ago and whose left leg was a mputated, died from the effects of his injuries yesterday at the Slaters' Hoapital. The deceased was 35 years of age, resided at No. 3212 Downey averiue, and leaves a family. The body was taken to John R. Paul's undertaking establishment in East Loo Angeles and today it will be shipped to O'Keefe's former home in San Francisco. Dr. Bresee's Return.

Dr. Presse's Betsen.

Dr. P. F. Bresse, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, and C. E. McKee, one of its prominent members, yesterday morning returned to Los Angeles after a month's visitation with churches of this denomination at Omnha, Salt Lake and Boise, Idaho. At each of these places important meetings were held, and the church greatly strengthened. Dr. Bresse will preach at the Frist Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning, and a special Christmas service will be held at that time.

Died of Hemorrhage.

George Ross. a consumptive died

George Ross, a consumptive, died yesterday afternoon in the Receiving Hospital of hemorrhage, and by order of the Coroner the body was taken to Bresse Bros. morgue. It is not likely that an inquest will be held. Ross was found early Wednesday morning lying in the weeds in the river bed under the Lag-street bridge. He had walked all the way from the County Parm because the authorities there would not admit alm without an order from the Board of Supervisors. The night before he had applied at the Police Station for assistance and was given lodging. Then he started for the County Hospital, but was unable to make the trip and lay down in the weeds to die. The police took him to the Receiving Hospital, where he remained because he was too weak to be moved. Nothing is known as to his domestic relations. It is probable that the body will be buried at the expense of the county.

Yesterday, Dennis was found at his plow humping down the celery tops with extra vigor inasmuch as he realized the need of ammunition.

"Yes." he said. "Got a pretty good crop, but a fellow needs about all the money he can possibly get together. It takes it all to fight that alwauit." McGirk is plainly in this for the fighting. He claims to have taken no part whatever in the gun play and not to have seen anything of it.

"If we have not the legal right, why then we don't want to hunt there. If the court decides against us, we will never try to hunt there again. We only want what is ours."

gathered there. All of them had gune.
He heroically got astride of the fence and tried to prevent the farmers from cutting it away.

GUNS WERE DRAWN.
The talk grew hot. Several of the farmers occurred to the cuthouse and the bunkhouses for the farmers occurred to the farmers occurred to the cuthouse of all kind are living a tame of deaded to the folsa trigation District.

The lang-deferred coming of the winter rains, and the urgent need of the district and that they have fenced in the farmers occurred to the farmers amount to from $760 to the first than that touches and the bunkhouses of the farmers amount to from $760 to the first to the laint they have cleamed decayed to the farmers amount to from $760 to the first to the laint they have cleamed to the district and peat farmers.

THERE began yesterday at Santa Ana the most picturesque and the bitterest legal fight between poor ranchers on one side and a score of millionaires on the other that California has seen since the enraged wheat farmers trained their guns on the Southern Pacific. It is the culmination of a long feud between the Bolsa Chica Gun Club of Los Angeles, composed of the wealthiest men of this city and Pasadena, with associates in New York and other cities-bearing on claim they have been evicted and injured by the duck hunters. Testerday saw the start toward the law court of the dramatic warfare between the celery farmers of the peat beit and the millionaires of the Bolsa Chica Gun Club who have averfowed for him to pass the dam. As this dam large areas and driven the farmers from the hunting grounds where they shot ducks for years before the gun club was ever heard of. The millionaires nearly all live in Los Angeles and Pasadena. The fight now on their hands is one of the most exciting stories that has ever been told in Sent and Pasadena.

told in Sout: rn California.

The hearing of the demurrer yesterday has caused a temporary cessation of the gun play that his threatened daily tragedies in the peat belt. Not only are the ranchers stirred up by being driven from the-Bolsa Chica grounds, but they declare they have been despoiled of much valuable farm-ing land by the club's flowage opera-tions. They are at a fever heat over it all.

lons. They are at a lever near t all.

Several times within a month bloodshed has been narrowly averted. The farmers have made armed excursions onto the millionaires' preserves, accoutred like troops on a marauding exmedition.

M'GIRK VS. MILLJONAIRES. M'GIRK VS. MILLIONAIRES.

Dennis McGirk is a celery farmer working a little ranch only a biscult throw from the edge of the Boisa Chica hunting preserve. The annual profits from his farm probably about equal the dues of one of the members of the gun club.

Dennis is not a duck shooter himself. He does not care to boat on the lake which the millionaires have fenced off. He believes, however, that the gun club has appropriated land that actually belongs to the United States government.

It does not worry the United States government but it worries Dennis Mc-Girk. He has decided that the millionaires must go and is not dismayed that the other side has an aggregate purse of $100,000,000. Dennis says the millionaires have no business there and must get out if it takes his whole celery crop to make them.

Vesterday Dennis was found at his want what is ours."

However, he has a determined idea as to what is his.

Not all the farmers around arel of a party with Dennis McGirk; some favor the gun club.

The leader of this latter element is J. H. Cole. He is the farmer who lives at the crest of the bluffs overlooking the gun-club grounds. He was at one time the most bitter of the enemies of the club. Now he has experienced a change of heart and is head keeper for the club, acting as the club detective. Cole is in all the threatened gun fights. A couple of weeks ago he came near being a bloody martyr to the cause.

near being a bloody martyr to the cause.

The farmers resolved to tear down the fence over Freeman River or Boisa Creek, as it is sometimes called. This fence is seen in one of the accompanying illustrations. It is especially objectionable because it cuts off the farmers from floating down the stream as they used to do, prevents them also from having access by water to the duck grounds and to the sea.

The farmers claim that this creek used to be deep over a man's head and since the building of the millionaires' dam has become so clogged with mud that it is now only 2½ feet deep.

So they determined to cut the fence down.

Cole heard of it and flew to the res-

TWO INSURRECTIONUSTS

Among the encounters was that of two boys who were ordered off by Cole and wouldn't go. In the argument, Cole's revolver was accidentally discharged and something of a sensation was created. It has continually happened that the farmers have hid and scared away the ducks from the shooting club members.

One day, as the gun-club members were going out to the various shooting boxes, one of them came across a man with his shoes and stockings off, paddling his feet in the stream.

"Do you know whose land you are on?" asked the club member sharply.

The man spat thoughtfully into the Among the encounters was that of

"Yes." he said. "Belongs to a relative of mine."

"Who's that?"

"Uncle Sam."

The club member went away and left him there. The man was Jeff Lewis. one of the richest farmers of that section.

Since the court issued an injunction, none of the farmers have been on the club grounds and the club has disarmed its guards.

The dam which has been the cause of all this fracas lies at the base of the hill on which the Bolsa Chica Club House stands. It is shown in one of the pictures with the automatic flood gates.

The object in building it is to keep the salt water out of the little lakes where the shooting goes on. The ducks do not like the salt water. The automatic gates show that the salt water rises several feet above the level of the fresh and that, consequently, a great quantity of sea water is kept out.

The situation of the clubhouse is most beautiful. It is expected that a great summer resort of a restricted sort will grow up here some day.

The clubhouse from its perch on the cliff, looks out over the breakers in the front, and along a series of lovely takes blue in the sunshine, underneath a frowning cliff. It is most picturesque. One could sit on the sheltered porches of the clubhouse for days at a time siraply watching the play of the sun over the takes and the tiny rivers, and the myriads of wild fowl flying and settling.

The clubhouse has everything that money can buy.

It is built around a great hall, a baronial affair, with a huge fireplace and the heads of fish and game about; there are pianos and organs and patent planos; gun-rooms with fowling pieces to make a lesser hunter kill himself with envy; director's rooms, sleeping-rooms for each member. Back of the clubhouse is an aviary where ducks of all kind are living a tame old age. In a pocket of the hills underneath the clubhouse cliff, are the kennels and boathouses and the bunkhouses for the guards and the keepers.

The pay roll of the club and the current expenses amount to from $750 to $1000 every month. The club spends about $10,000 a year in improvements of the grounds and preserves.

That the millionaires have claimed as their own and fenced it in, a navigable stream called "Freeman River," have dammed it up and made it impossible for boats to pass, the farmers claiming that United States engineers have decided that the atream is the property of the United States.
They claim that the gun club has caused the water to back and the bed of the stream to clog and fill with mud; that the water is becoming stagnant and has caused a season of typhoid pneumonia in that district.
They claim that in the upper lakes, the millionaires have fenced off land which was given to the people years ago and could not possibly be bought up for a hunting preserve or anything else, thirty feet on either side of the channel having been deeded to the Bolsa Irrigation District.

The farmers have raised several thousand dollars to fight the case. They were represented yesterday by Attorney F. O. Danlel of Santa Ana. Attorney J. G. Church Tomorrow Afternoon.

The Executive Committee of the Ministerial Union which last Sunday conducted the grusaders down through the crib district, has made arrangements for holding the second public meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Temple Baptist Church, corner of Sixth and Hill streets. In view of the retirement of the demimonde from the Alameda-street district, there will be no outside domonstration at this meeting, but it will take on a thanksgiving character. Dr. Boller and others will speak.

The Executive Committee will hold a session this afternoon at the Y.M.C. A building, and matrons of the rescue homes are requested to be present at that time.

As a result of the firm attitude of the officials and the railway managera, "dust thou art, to dust returnest," remains an apt quotation. The dust storm was the principal feature of the climate yesterday, and the bombardment of germ-laden particles thrown from beneath the wheels of the cars was worse than ever.

Nofziger appeared to hold the key to the situation yesterday, although five members of the Council have indirectly expressed their determination to support the City Attorney in the fight to force the companies to sprinkle their tracks. There is little doubt but that Nofziger's word would have been sufficient to call a special session yesterday, and there appears to be no good reason why the situation should change before this morning.

Owing to a press of other work, complaints for the arrest of the rail-way managers were not sworn out yesterday. The railway must answel to the two charges already against them in Justice Chambers's court this morning, and little could have been gained by going over the same ground yesterday except to rigidly observe the provisions of the ordinance.

City Attorney Mathews seemed very confident last night that the case against the railway managers would desuit in favor of the city. Deputy Attorney Goudge expressed the same view.

The general expectation is that the

WISMER HAS OLD BOOKS.

When F. W. Wismer, City Assessor, returned from a visit to his old home at Newark, N. J., a short time age, he brought with aim some old books that have been in the family for a long time. The Wismer family settled in Pennsylvania in the fifteenth century, and one of the books reveals a family tree whose branches figured prominently in the early Quaker days.

Another book which Assessor Wismer prizes is a compliation of the carliest laws of Connsectiver, known far and wide as the "Blue Laws." The book recounts how childen who went so far as to strike their parents were put to death, and contains many interesting items showing the austerelives led by the early inhabitants of the Nutmeg State. The book also contains the earliest record of the colony of New Haven, winch is something of a literary curicaity.

A bound volume of the Lady's Magazine," which is designated as an "entertaining companion for the fair sex—appropriated solely to their use and amusement," published in London in 1734, is another book watch the Assessor prizes. It contains interesting acquints of George Washington's doings in the Colonies, and Arows an interesting side-light on the beginnings of the United States government.

ACTOR AND KNOCKER AND WHO IS WHICH?

WILL RID CITY OF "MACS."
Having closed the crib district without the arrest of a single-immate and diver hundreds of fast women out of the city, the City Attorney has desired department to seek out and arrest all vagrants of this class.

City Attorney Mathews is a firm believer in the maxim that "whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well." He intends to give a knock-out biow to the social svil.

The "macs" prey upon the earnings of the falten women. Nearly every fast woman has a male companion whom she supports in idle luxury. These men are sometimes called "cadets" and purposes.

As the "macs" always dress well and have plenty of money it is very difficult to-get a conviction before a Polies Court jury. Heretofore officials in high station have often assisted men of this type to escape the police toils, and it remains to be seen what will be the outcome in this instance.

The frau's nose took an upward tilt. "Nein!" Nein!" she exclaimed, with emphasis, and though the German larguage is not Judge Allen's strong, est hold, he understood. But inasmuch as the husband's getting a decree meant the old woman's being thrown out penniless, he thought perhaps sha hadn't understood, so he summoned an interpreter from the outside. The wife was again told her duty in the premises, and that being an old couple they ought to live happily together as good companions in the evening of their lives.

But Mrs. Schubert again fired a volley of "Neins" at the court, and, presto, change! in the twinkling of an eye, and before the echo of that last emphatic "Nein" had died away the husband had his decree, and Mrs. Schubert came down off the witness stand and from off her perch at one and the same time.

Her attorney wanted to make a little talk about the court granting allmony, but Judge Allen said that where a husband obtained a divose through the facility of the wife the liw made no provision for any allmony. In this case all of the property was the separate estate of Mr. Schubert. And now Mrs. Schubert is a grass widow, possessed of plenty of dignity, but mkus the home for which she took chances.

They are quite young people and that makes the attack of spatting that has seized upon them the more vigorous. By silent acquiescence if not actual agreement, husband and wife separated; a kind of armed truce was proclaimed.

Last week hostilities broke out again when the husband went to where his wife is living at Long Beach, and in her absence stole away their baby child. She recovered her babe, but the matter passed into court on the inevitable habeas corpus. Judge Trask sat back yesterday and looked solemn while each party threw great verbal chunks of villification at the other. When the wife was called to the witness stand she appeared languid and distraught, and only when she swatted her husband a real good one—so to say—did she wake up. She said that she had been long-suffering, but that her husband's people were too much for her.

"I offered to go and live with him, even if it was only in a tent," she said, "and that I would work and supply half the living, but he wouldn't accept my proposition. He said that I'd have to lives with his folks, and I wouldn't do it."

BALLERINO. HIS DAMAGE SUIT.

HIS DAMAGE SUIT.

Ballerino used a polite name for his cribs in his $50,000 damage suit which was filed in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon. He calls the crib row the "International Hotel."

The suit is brought against the following defendants: Mayor M. P. Snyder, City Attorney W. B. Mathews, Chief of Police Charles Elton, Rev. Wylle J. Phillips, Attorney J. Marion Brooks, Police Commissioner James A. Keeney, Police Commissioner James A. Keeney, Police Commissioner James A. Keeney, Police Capt. Waiter Auble.
Ballerino says that he rents grooms and that he has other apariments which he rents to persons who are not guests at the hotel. He says he is a law-abiding, patriotic citizen, and that he wasn't doing anything a bit wrong when the hosts of virtue came swooping down upon him December 13—unlucky day—and cleaned out all his "tenants." He says that they got the "tenants" out by force and persuasion and promises of reward, although to the naked eye it would seem that the policemen came down upon them and simply told the women to "git."

He refers to the raid of December 18 and claims another is contemplated for December 20—next Sunday. The thing that seems to worry Ballerino is that the next raid is to come on the Sabbath day, his piety is offended. He says "at about 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon of said holy day that they will constitute themselves into a great mob and will again" raid the works.

Because of the driving out of his tenants, he claims to have been damaged in the sum of $50,000.

"I have suffered more or less from kidney troubles for the past 25 years. It was first caused, I think, from working in damp slaughter-houses while living at Columbus, Ohio. I was compelled to be in a stooped position so much and my back became so sore and lame I could hardly straighten it. The trouble chung to me constantly, but the attacks were intermittent and came on without any apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappeared. Travels in Spain.

Castillan Days. By John Hay. Houghton, Mimin & Co., Boston.

This holiday edition of "Castillan days" is one of the most pleasing of the season's gift books. It will appeal as much with its informing text as with its wealth of information concerning Spain and her people. Twenty or more years ago the first edition of the work appeared, and it secured a wide and appreciative circle of readers. It has, however, dropped out of sight during the past decade, and it comes to most book buyers as a new work, and so if is, in fact, for the present edition has received the careful revision of the author, and has been pruned in such a manner that it is now a purely descriptive work. Mr. Hay has a happy talent for descriptive writing. He sees olearly, and with comprehensive vision, and having seen, he describes in a manner that puts the reader into sympatatic relation with the country that is the subject of our author's able pen. The present took buyers see, he describes in a manner that puts the reader into sympatatic relation with the country that is the subject of our author's able pen. The present volume takes up. in its first chapter. "Madrid al fresco," and having seen, he describes in a manner that puts the reader into sympatatic relation with the country that is the subject of our author's able pen. The present volume takes up. in its first chapter. "Madrid al fresco," and we are given a zlimpse or the life of that city that is unique. Our author has seen those things that all travelers have written, and thus we have at the outset of the work a chapter that is an index to the entire volume. That is—in it are the elsments of the uncommon and the interesting. The second chapter is the sports were by no means a unit in its prosecution, and that the fails were filled with seditious and treasonable persons, and that from time to time the second of the book. The narrative is apt at times to be rather colories, and that from time to time the war. We admit these things, we are forced to admit them, but why bring them up? The younger generation does not know them, why intrude upon them the dark spots of our nation's history? We cannot challenge the facts set forth by Prof. Lee, although we believe that here and there are errors in dates, but we decry the attempt to bring for ward that which should be for ward that which should be for the purpose of leading the nation of the purpose of lea

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The egg market is still unsettled. Some dealers have declined to pay 20 cents for ranch today. Receipts by wholesale buyers are not heavy, but absence of orders from certain retailers indicate that they are dealing directly with the farmer.

There were in storage on December 15 about 9600 cases of eggs. Not a large quantity considering the season and the demand.

The butter market is rather weak. There were in storage on December 15 about $50,000 pounds of butter, a considerably less quantity than on the first of the month. The market was weaker in San Francisco yesterday. Cheese also is weak, although unchanged in price The amount in storage on the 15th, which was over 250,000 pounds, is an eelment of weakness in the market.

Deputy Sheriff Hansen arrived from Needles this morning with W. G. Shields a Santa Fé operator, and William Leroy, a Santa Fé porter, each committed to the County Jall for ninety days for disturbing the peace While under the influence of liquor the prisoners smashed down the doors of two residences at Needles. In each case the arrest was accompanied with a desperate fight, and in Shields's case he drew a revolver, being disarmed with difficulty. He then selzed the officer's hand between his teeth and lacerated it. Shields was also bitten on the hand by a man who had come to assist in making the arrest.

A pair of trousers and 318 were stolen from George Smith's room last Needles for its firewood, but rumor has it that the Gurnsey Lumber Company of his 180-acre ranch along the Arrowhead road. The ranch is valuable for its firewood, but rumor has it that the Gurnseys want the property to build a lumber fume across, down which to shoot the newly cut lumber from the mills, eight miles above the tract. The land is bounded on three sides by the Arrowhead road, along which the lumber has to be hauled. FIGHT WITH HOBOS. COLTON, Dec. 18.-Last evening Constable Bagley had a hard tussie with four vicious tramps and had to call on Deputy Sheriff Brown of Riverside for help. It seems that the hobos having had a good meal they refused to pay the bill. The officer was called to and for a time there was indeed a veritable "rough house," but finally the disturbance was quelled and the knights of the road were taken to San Bernardino, where they are boarding at the county's expense.

Post Mortem on Young Man Who Thought He Was Poisoned Causes Surgeons to Wonder.

William Allison, 21 years of age, who died after ten days' illness, apparently from inflammation of the stomach. The young man had said he had been poisoned, and to satisfy the family a post mortem was held. The surgeons found a most peculiar displacement of the internal organs.

The operators found an opening through the diaphragm and a dilated stomach, nearly three times normal size, completely filling the left side of the thoracic cavity, taking the place of the left lung. There was no left lung, only a small rudimentary lung about one inch thick and three inches square.

about one inch thick and three inches square.

Lying under the stomach was found the ascending and descending colon with the appendix attached in its usual place on the lower end of the colon, and also in the thoracic cavity. The heart was located on the lower right side of the thoracic cavity, extending parallel and next to the spinal column, between the second and fifth ribs. The right lung was not normal size. There is no question but that the anatomical malformation of the different organs, had existed from infancy. The young man had never been ill and this is the reason his peculiar condition had never been discovered. The case is believed to be one of the most remarkable in the history of surgery.

charming Southern story "Sonny," by seven senior pupils of the Dobinson Senool of Expression.

The parts were all well taken and the appreciation of the audience was evidenced by frequent laughter and applause. The young ladies showed careful training and much of the work would have been creditable to experienced elocutionists and actors.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of the orchestra class of the First Congregational Church and was a success from a financial as well as an artistic standpoint.

The programme was opened with a selection of Southern airs and melodies. The story of "Sonny Jones's" eventful life was then taken up, Miss Isabel Moore presenting the first chapter, "A Christmas Guest." Miss. Rita Victoria gave a little sketch of "The Boy," Miss Florence Augiermell told of "The Christenin," and Miss Mae McGowan accounted for "Sonny's Schoolin." Miss Ivy Reed, related how "Sonny's Diplomy" was won and Miss Henrietta Dobinson gave a good account of his "Keepin' Company." "Weddin' Presents," as pictured by Miss Mabel Clark, was the concluding chapter of this most interesting little story.

"One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by a mixed quartette was the last number on the programme.

The orchestra of the First Congregational Church, which played several selections during the evening, did excellent work and its efforts were always roundly applauded.

PASADENA ORANGES.

The Pasadena Orange Growers' Association shipped five carloads of holiday oranges East this season, and expects to begin active operations in the orchards between Christmas and New Year's on the regular season's output. Where the association shipped but 141 Cars last year, it is conservatively estimated that the crop this year will be over 200 cars. The fruit is of a good color, firm and thin-skinned, and of a much better quality than last year's yield. Some orchards which last year's yield. Some orchards which last year produced but 300 or 400 boxes will this year bear over 1000. A large force of men is now at work making and labeling the boxes for the Tournament of Roses brand. The other popular brand of the association is the Echo Mountain brand, which is used principally for Valencia oranges. The officers of the association this year are John E. Jardine, president; Byron Lisk, vice-president, and J. F., Jones, secretary.

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 18.—While a little girl named Lamb was returning from school this evening, along Wilson avenue, she noticed a suspicious-looking individual lurking along the the road. Attempting to escape, the child was chased into a ravine, where the man approached her and threatlepsd her with death if she made any outcry. The girl finally succeeded in woman, got a gun and went after the cowardly miscreant, determined to wreak summary vengeance. There was great excitement in the neighbor-

The events which usually compose intercollegiate meets will be on the programme. Standard intercollegiate and amateur athletic rules will govern the contest. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be presented to the winners of first, second and third places in each event. To the winning institution will be awarded a handsome banner; the winning relay team will also receive a banner.

In Knox College, Northwestern University and the University of North Dakota Mr. Hempel originated similar meets, which were marked successes. From ten to thirty-four institutions were represented, and from one hundred to three hundred entries.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 18.—Automobile drivers are beginning to appreciate the beauties of the fourteen miles of hard sand along this beach at low tide. It offers a long stretch of the finest speedway on earth with the added advantages that on it they would interfere with no one and would have practically no danger of accident. The strip of soft sand intervening between it and the bluff has been in the way heretofore, but the city is now buildheretofore, but the city is now build-ing a road across it at the foot of Linden avenue, and in a day or two the autos will have full swing on the beach. Meantime, the City Attorney beach. Meantime, the City Attorney has been instructed to see what can be done, in connection with the auto club of Los Angeles, to induce the Supervisors to build a boulevard from that city to this beach. Such a driveway was practically promised last year but it was dropped for some reason. If the Los Angeles drivers could have a good road here and then the pleasure of a spin on the beach in addition, they would be coming this way all the time.

HORSE IN WINDOW.

Harold Kingore and his saddle horse managed to break in a large plate glass window in front of the Cash Store last evening. When Mr. Kingore dismounted at the curb the horse started to back away and an unfortunate pull on the rein took him farther back, across the walk and through the glass. The loss is estimated at $100.

The County Superintendent of Schools has appointed Rev. Martin Shively to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. W. H. McIlmoil, on the board of trustees of the Bonita Union High School. The appointment meets with universal approval.

The closing sessions of the Bible Institute, which has been held here two weeks, took place today. The morning and afternoon meetings were devoted to the discussion of the Sunday-school. The address of Rev. J. W. Cline of Los Angeles on the subject of "The Sunday-school Teacher" was received with repeated applause. He said: "The boy sizes up the teacher and the teacher should use common sense, which is so uncommon."

John S. Surber and Mrs. Alice J. Surber of La Verne, who have been divorced several years, have decided that their differences were not so great after all and were remarried in Los Angeles yesterday.

At a party given last night by Mrs. Hibbard and daughters at their residence, which is a part of the unfinished La Verne Hotel, built in the boom days, Miss Geneva Swerdfeger fell over the unprotected stairs to the floor below, fourteen feet, and received severe injuries as well as a dislocated shoulder.

Christmas Tree in the Sun, Just Where It Grew.

Sham Snowballs, Indoor Trees and Gifts for Parents.

It is a magnificent pepper at the old Maxwell residence, No. 203 Rosemont avenue, now the home of Mr. Baker. Nature made the pepper tree for a Christmas tree, not only because it is so green and beautiful at Christmas time, but because its beautiful foliage and long clusters of red berries are natural decorations. Added to these yesterday were numerous gifts for the parents of the children, and for each child a well-filled Christmas stocking hung from the branches.

After some little songs had been sung, Santa Claus appeared and spread good cheer among the little ones. The act was admirably borne by Dr. Lund, and no happier throng of youngsters ever was seen. To have this Christmas celebration out in the sun, in just such a climate as that of Bethiehem of Judea, where Christwas born, takes some of the inspiration out of ice-bound Christmases so many of us used to know "back yonder."

The Casco-street kindergarten entertained at this celebration the Boydstreet kindergarten, the combined schols making a party of about 100 children.

The above are specimens of the exercises which took place in each of the forty kindergartens of the city. Miss Ledyard, kindergarten superintendent, took great interest in the work, and yesterday she spoke in glowing terms of the interest and self-sacrifice on the part of all the principals and teachers. Everything was voluntary and all expenses were paid out of their own pockets.

The idea of siving was made the chief feature with the little ones, that of receiving being a secondary consiceration, and the enthusiasm with which the young folk entered into the gift-making is one of the marvels of the celebration.

In it all there seemed to be little In it all there seemed to be little thought of self, and the surprise al-ways came in what the children them-selves received.

At a Sunday-night meeting of a "central labor union" in Lynn, Mass., the star orator was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, fresh from the measuring of awords at the Boston convention with John Mitchell, in which the Gompers blade fell short.

He urged a closer union among laborers everywhere for the general good. "As to combinations of capital," he said, "labor has less to fear from manufacturers" organizations than from disloyalty in its own ranks." And the Crispins and all the other assembled unionists of Lynn yelled their approval. Let us analyze that outgiving a bit; Its initial reference was, of course, to the recently organized national association of employers and citizens having for its object a resistance of organized labor's attacks and generally vicious

Unprecedented.... Christmas Trading

Shop in the Morning-Avoid Afternoon Crowds....

The holiday trading this year is phenomenal. Never in the history of Los Angeles has such generous buying of Christmas presents been known. The recognized leading commercial houses, as well as the class of imitators, have nothing to complain of in the loosening of the populace's purse strings. And over and above all does the GREAT HAMBURGER STORE show its pre-eminence.

In all the rush and bustle, people have but little time or inclination to go shopping around; and the Los Angeles public long ago learned that whatever they wanted they were sure to find it at Hamburger's. The great manufacturing centers of the world have contributed to our display of holiday merchandise. We ask no exorbitant profits but everything is of just quality and at prices you are willing to pay. The store is thoroughly heated, making shopping comfortable at all hours.
